

ORDERS CARNIVAL AT PARK STOPPED

City Commission Cancels Attraction at Douglas Park for Failure to Secure a Permit.

NO PERFORMANCES ARE GIVEN

Shows Are Brought Here Under the Auspices of the Rock Island Baseball Association.

Carnivals remain unpopular with the members of the city commission. A week since a delegation from the City Federation of Labor visited the commission and asked permission to stage a fair on the grounds in the vicinity of the industrial hall, which was refused.

Investigation showed that the Great American shows had failed to obtain permission from the city to show and Commissioner J. H. Lindbergh instructed chief Phil Miller to visit the grounds and see the situation.

As a result the carnival did not open and was not an achievement. Attempts of the baseball association to get shows on the grounds of the commission were also refused and it is understood that the local organization has been discouraged and the shows will be taken elsewhere.

Members of the baseball association state that one wants to do a more interesting thing. The association has a lease on the park and its directors thought they had a right to stage the carnival without the usual license fee.

PROPERTY OWNERS KICK

The petition of protest now read at the meeting was from property owners who object to the city stopping carnivals on the park. Instructions against carnivals at Douglas park would be issued if the city asked that permission be granted for a fair and a half cent for each person in the park.

All citizens are asked to sign the petition and return it to the city clerk. The petition is to be held at the city clerk's office until the next meeting of the commission.

ITALIAN NAVY OUT AFTER PUBLICITY

Rome. The Italian navy has established a press and publicity office to be in the war and, frankly, to advertise the navy and direct attention to its activities.

The office is headed by a naval officer of captain's rank, who acts as liaison with the newspaper writers who make it their business to travel with different naval vessels, and who write reports, replies, notices and other articles.

All of their work is prepared by the managing editor and then distributed to the Italian newspapers and magazines.

In addition, if a special writer from some local or foreign newspaper wishes to get information first hand he is examined regarding his credentials and these being satisfactory, is given permission to travel with the navy and his articles are later being subject to censor, as on the other front.

The press bureau also has its own publication, La Marina, has its own photographic staff, and its moving picture department. One of its useful means of securing publicity is the arrangement of lectures by prominent persons, the lecturer being furnished with either a moving picture film or lantern slides.

Arrangements have been made for such lectures in the United States.

All the news all the time—The Argus.
